During the past week our Project Officer has conducted an intensive review of the status of the legal information storage and retrieval system. The purpose of the review was to attempt to learn why schedule slippages and cost overruns had developed in the work which 3i and Systems Science Corporation are doing for us on the project and to formulate and take whatever steps seemed necessary to prevent more of the same. We have just received his report, and a copy is enclosed for your information. Unless you instruct us otherwise, we will carry on as the report indicates, and with the continuing advice of the Computer Committee.
